PART II-(applicable only if checked below) FREEDOM OF INFORMATION ACT AND THE RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUALS SEEKING ACCESS TO RECORDS ABOUT THEMSELVES

- ☐ It was not necessary for you to cite the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) when you sent us your recent request. You would have been granted access to the information/records without citing the Act. The FOIA is a disclosure Statute granting access to the public to final opinions and orders of agencies, policy statements and interpretations not published in the Federal Register, and to certain other Federal records. This Act is not designated for use by individuals seeking access to records about themselves. Inquiries of this nature fall within the provisions of the Privacy Act (5 U.S.C. 552a).

The Privacy Act covers records which are retrievable by the name of an individual or by other individually identifiable data. Each agency must annually publish a listing in the Federal Register of the record systems which it maintains. The individual identified in the record must be granted a right of access to the file and must be given a right to challenge the accuracy of the information contained in it, a provision that is not included in the FOIA. The individual also may authorize a third party access to information or copies of these records. In addition, the parent of a minor or the legal guardian of an individual who has been declared to be incompetent may act on behalf of the individual.

Whenever the FOIA is cited in a request, even if not needed, we must maintain certain statistical data for the annual report required by the Congress. The special controls and additional paperwork required for FOIA requests merely increases the time it normally takes us to answer a request. Therefore, in the interest of saving time, we urge that the FOIA not be cited in requests such as the one that we are responding to at this time. Please be assured that no information or record will be withheld that would be released under FOIA procedures.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Dear Mr. Okeayainneh:

You appealed from the action of the Executive Office for United States Attorneys (EOUSA) on your Freedom of Information Act request for access to the appointment affidavits and oaths for four Assistant U.S. Attorneys located in the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Minnesota. I note that you initially also requested previous assignments and postings for these four individuals. However, you do not contest EOUSA's action on this portion of your request in your appeal.

After carefully considering your appeal, I am affirming, on partly modified grounds, EOUSA's action on your request. The FOIA provides for disclosure of many agency records. At the same time, Congress included in the FOIA nine exemptions from disclosure that provide protection for important interests such as personal privacy, privileged communications, and certain law enforcement activities.

EOUSA properly withheld certain information because it is protected from disclosure under the FOIA pursuant to 5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(6) and it is reasonably foreseeable that disclosure of this information would harm the interests protected by this provision. This provision concerns material the release of which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of the personal privacy of third parties.

As to your appeal concerning the adequacy of EOUSA's search for responsive records subject to the FOIA, I have determined that EOUSA's response was correct and that it conducted an adequate, reasonable search for such records.

It appears that the subjects of your request were formerly employed by EOUSA. The National Personnel Records Center (NPRC), which is part of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA), bears primary responsibility for maintaining records of former federal government employees. If you wish to submit a request to the NPRC for these records, please follow the instructions provided at <https://www.archives.gov/st-louis/civilian-personnel> or by writing to the following address:

National Personnel Records Center, Annex
1411 Boulder Boulevard
Valmeyer, IL 62295

Please be advised that this Office's decision was made only after a full review of this matter. Your appeal was assigned to an attorney with this Office who thoroughly reviewed and analyzed your appeal, your underlying request, and the action of EOUSA in response to your request.

If you are dissatisfied with my action on your appeal, the FOIA permits you to file a lawsuit in federal district court in accordance with 5 U.S.C. § 552(a)(4)(B).

For your information, the Office of Government Information Services (OGIS) offers mediation services to resolve disputes between FOIA requesters and Federal agencies as a non-exclusive alternative to litigation. Using OGIS services does not affect your right to pursue litigation. The contact information for OGIS is as follows: Office of Government Information Services, National Archives and Records Administration, Room 2510, 8601 Adelphi Road, College Park, Maryland 20740-6001; email at ogis@nara.gov; telephone at 202-741-5770; toll free at 1-877-684-6448; or facsimile at 202-741-5769.
